A RUSSIAN MARRIES A DEAF-MUTE. FORTUNATE ENDING OF A DIFFICULT COURTSHIP

IN THE SIGN LANGUAGE. Civil Justice Murphy, in the Lee-ave, court, yesterday united Yetta Lowenkind, a deaf-mute, and Morris J. Margolius in marriage. The latter ar-The bride is a sister of Glaser's wife, and it was during her visits at ner brother-in-law's shop that she met Margolius. She smiled on him sweetly and he bowed politics to her, but further than that -conversationally-they could not go. Both were deeply in love, but Margolius did not know how to make his feelings known. At last he went to a woman who had taught Yetta the language of the fingers and took lessons. A week ago he went to Yetta's home, at No. his Ewen-st., and invited her out for a walk. Under the gaslight he proposed to her in the deaf and dumb hunginge. She accepted him and when the fact was made smown the young woman's relatives were delighted.

W. J. Gaynor has been asked to give a legal opinion in regard to the construction of the law as to whether the county towns shall elect Supervisors this year. The terms of Supervisors of the county are for two years, and the present incom-bents from the towns were elected last year. But a law passed last year in reference to fown officors says that their terms shall begin on the 1st of January in each year. Some lawyers say that this means that Supervisors must be elected annually. John B. Meyenborg, counsel to the Board of Supervisors, holds the contrary opinion.

The Joint Committee on Bridges of the Board of Supervisors of Kings and Queenz counties will give a hearing in the Courinouse at H a m to-morrow in the matter of constructing a tunnel under Newtown Creek, between Greenpoint and Long Island City, at Manhattan-ave. In the first place, it may be well to say, in view of the rumors and gossip about the club, that there is not the slightest chance of its going to pieces this winter at least. Preble Tucker, the secretary, says the membership is now 670. This is no considerable decrease from the figures of last year, when 740 men paid their dues. Raising the annual payment from $50 to $75 and the prevailing financial stringency naturally had some effect. Dr. William G. Vetmilyea, of No. 117 Barbey-st., At the same time, the desirableness of membership has grown on account of the arrangement with Mr. Abbey by which the club has the us of a big box at the opera, with seats for 160 persons and standing room for 100 more. For $1, members will be admitted to other parts of the auditorium.

The club's seazon will begin with that of Mr. Abbey's grand opera on November 27, and will probably last about seventeen weeks. The most important change in the programme of the club's entertainments is that there will be no vaudeville performance on opera nights. This is for two reasons; one is that such a show would form an absurd anti-climax after the opera, and the other that it could not begin until after 11 o'clock, and would therefore last until we'l into the morning. Consequently on nights when there are perform ances in the opera ..ousc, the Vaudeville Club will merely have a concert by its orchestra. Nahan Franko has been engaged as conductor and he will have a corps of excellent musicians. The club, it is expected, will be generously patronized by supper parties after the opera. On the other three week nights a vaudeville show will be given at 9:30 o'clock. This will be different from those offered by the club last year, and from those to be seen in the variety theatres and music hails. On account of the reduction in the number of these entertainments, much more money can be spent on each of them than was available last winter, and the talent will be the It is possible that operettas will be given.
